

TESTIMONIAL

Aged 65, Dame Florence is a courageous woman who has been affected by hemiplegia since 2009. The past 15 years have been a daily battle, hampering her freedom of movement. All she wanted was a cane to help her get around.

Her deepest wish has been more than fulfilled thanks to the donations of salvaged components. Joy and satisfaction now light up Dame Florence's face.

The cane, like a faithful companion, offers her a new perspective on mobility, a rebirth for her.

However, the after-effects of the disease persist. His left arm remains inert, a constant reminder of the relentless fight against hemiplegia. To alleviate this difficulty, a sling was generously donated, providing essential support for her shoulder and stabilising the movement of her arm. This thoughtful gesture demonstrates a deep understanding of Dame FLORENCE's specific needs.

In addition to the cane and sling, a walker has been added to her arsenal of support. A valuable ally for those times when extra stability is needed, giving Dame FLORENCE the confidence to explore the world around her.

Through these kind gestures and the use of recycled components OADCPH and APAV-TOGO have breathed new life into Dame FLORENCE. Her poignant testimony resonates like a hymn to new-found hope.
